Shipment

You will receive a tracking email when your order ships. Your order may arrive in multiple shipments. Shipping changes for the entire order are billed on the first shipment (no additional charges will be applied). All backorderd will ship UPS Ground.

Payment

Order with payments requiring additional verification may be delayed until payment and billing information has been verified. To help avoid delays:

- Ensure that your credit card company has your current information on file.
- If your order is shipping to an address other than your billing address, ask your credit card company to add an alternate authorized shipping address to your account.

Returns

We're confident that you'll be pleased with your purchase, but if you're not completely satisfied, simply return it in its original condition within 30 days of purchase and we'll give you a full refund (some exceptions apply). Read our Return Policy.
